A list of conference participants with email addresses may be downloaded at <http://econ.msu.edu/hes/Participant%20List.pdf>

Exhibitor Tables: All exhibitor tables are located in the coffee break room, Brody Hall Room 136.

Brody Hall: 241 W Brody Rd, East Lansing, MI 48825. All conference sessions, plenary sessions, the business meeting, coffee breaks and exhibitor tables are in Brody Hall. Brody Hall is directly across the street from the Kellogg Hotel and Conference Center. While parking is limited around Brody there is plenty of parking in the Kellogg Hotel and Conference Center.

Kellogg Hotel and Conference Center: 219 S Harrison Road, East Lansing, MI 48824. The reception is at the Kellogg Center on the East Patio. There is plenty of parking at the Kellogg Hotel and Conference Center. The parking ramp connects directly to the hotel and conference center on parking level L or Lobby level. The Kellogg also has a restaurant called The State Room that has casual fine dining. The Kellogg is directly across the street from Brody Hall. <http://www.kelloggcenter.com/>

Huntington Club: 325 W Shaw Lane, East Lansing, MI 48824. The banquet is at the Huntington Club located on the fourth floor of Spartan Stadium. From Brody Hall the Huntington Club is about a 15 minute walk. Parking at Spartan Stadium is plentiful in is lot 79. Entrance for the Huntington Club is on the west (Chestnut Rd.) side of Spartan Stadium. Please consult the walking map at the back of the program if you are interested in walking from Brody Hall or the Kellogg Center.

Interactive Campus Map: <http://maps.msu.edu/interactive/>

Internet access on MSU campus: Guest Access <http://techbase.msu.edu/article.asp?id=14931#s84177>

Places to eat: The Brody Square cafeteria (in Brody Hall) has seven different food stations to choose among. The State Room at the Kellogg Center has upscale casual dining. Downtown East Lansing starts with Biggby Coffee (270 W Grand River Ave) and continues for several blocks. Many restaurants and boutique shopping can be found along East Lansing's Grand River Ave and Albert St. Well known places are Beggar's Banquet (218 Abbott Rd) and the brew-pub HopCat (300 Grove Street). For a little more upscale dining further away, try Red Haven (#103 4480 Hagadorn Rd), Mitchell's Fish Market in Lansing's Eastwood Towne Center (2975 Preyde Blvd), or Dusty's Cellar in Okemos (1839 W Grand River Ave).

Museums: The Broad Art Museum (547 East Circle Drive, also accessible from Grand River Ave) is free to the public, closed on Monday. <http://broadmuseum.msu.edu/> The Broad is a contemporary art museum designed by Zaha Hadid Architects. The MSU Museum (409 W Circle Drive) is the science and culture museum at MSU and Michigan's first Smithsonian Institution affiliate. They are open during the weekend; for hours check their website: <http://museum.msu.edu/?q=visitorinfo>

Ice Cream: Michigan State University's Dairy Store is a must stop for anyone who likes ice cream. The main store is at 1140 S. Anthony Hall (at the corner of Farm Lane and Shaw Lane) and a second smaller venue is at 107 MSU Union Building. <http://dairystore.msu.edu/>

Beaumont Tower: The MSU carillon housed in the John W. Beaumont Memorial Tower (located next to the MSU Museum on West Circle Drive) began its first installation of bells in 1928. It is activated by a computer to sound Westminster Chimes every quarter hour.

Gardens: There are many gardens on MSU's campus including perennials, roses, native plants and interesting sculptures. A place to start would be 1066 Bogue Street.
<http://www.hrt.msu.edu/assets/PagePDFs/visitor-and-tour-information/Gardenmap2014master07.30.pdf>

Sparty Statue: Since 1945 Sparty has stood as MSU's mascot and is the most photographed statue on campus. The statue is located at the three way stop where Kalamazoo, Chestnut and Circle Drive meet. The original terracotta version of the statue has been moved indoors and now stands at the entrance to the Huntington Club at Spartan Stadium.

Healthcare: The two main hospitals in the area are Sparrow (1215 E Michigan Ave, Lansing) and McClaren of Greater Lansing (401 W Greenlawn Ave, Lansing). There are also many Redi-Care facilities that treat minor conditions such as Sparrow Urgent Care on 2682 E. Grand River Ave, East Lansing.

Examining the influence of the MIT Economics Department

MIT and the Transformation of American Economics

Edited by E. Roy Weintraub

MIT and the Transformation of American Economics, the annual supplement to History of Political Economy, documents the history of becoming the most highly regarded economics department in the world and the ways in which MIT's rise to prominence coincided with the remarkable transformation of American economics in the postwar period. Many developments influenced this history: the Keynesian revolution, the emergent technical nature of economics, the Cold War, the international hold of American economics, the GI Bill, and MIT's openness to Jewish economists.

"I didn't know, despite the many years I spent at MIT first as a student, then as faculty. So I found it — as Spock would say — fascinating."
— Paul Krugman, The New York Times
