

At the last ASSA meeting, we had 4 well attended sessions. The Institute for Humane Studies invited speakers and discussants to their reception and dinner.

For this coming ASSA we have 4 sessions

Macroeconomic Modeling in the US and Europe: a historical perspective

Chair: Aurélien Saïdi

Romain Plassard and Matthieu Renault: General equilibrium Models with Rationing: The making of a 'European Specialty'

Roger Backhouse, James Forder and Christina Laskaridis: European and American economists' responses to Unemployment in the 1980s

Beatrice Cherrier, Pedro Duarte and Aurélien Saïdi: Household heterogeneity in macroeconomic models: a historical perspective

Gender issues, feminism and economics in the history of economic thought (co-sponsored AISPE)

Chair: Manuela Mosca (University of Salento)

Edith Kuiper (State University of New York at New Paltz): Towards Feminist Histography of Economics

Kirsten Madden (Millersville University) and Joseph Persky (University of Illinois Chicago): Anna Doyle Wheeler on the Conditions and Consequences of Gender Equality

Ann Mari May (University of Nebraska-Lincoln): Gender, the 'Old Boy Network' and the American Economic Review in the Early Years

Giandomenica Becchio (University of Torino) and Manuela Mosca (University of Salento): Rethinking the History of Economics from a Gender Perspective: The Italian Case

Under-appreciated economists

William Darity, Jr.: Robert S. Browne, and his work on reparations.

M. Ali Kahn: Spatiality and Exploratory Data Analysis in the Theorizing of Routledge Vining: Rules of the Game and the Gaming of Rules.

Sandra Peart and David Levy: Harriet Martineau and hypothesis discovery

Joseph Persky and Kirsten Madden: William Thompson and the anticipation of Marx's historical materialism

Technocracy, Economists, and Foreign Advisors in Latin America.

Marta-Juanita Villaveces, Ricardo Salas, Pilar Torres: A Mere Guest? The Slow Process of Women's Participation in Top Decision-Making Positions (1950-2000) in Colombia.

Maxime Desmarais-Tremblay: Richard Musgrave in Colombia: The Art of Tax Reform in a Developing Country

Juan Pablo Couyoumdjian, Cristián Larroulet: Foreign Advisors, Upper-Tail Human Capital and State Capacity: Lessons from Chile

Andrés Álvarez, Jimena Hurtado: Colombia's economic mindset: exploring the pragmatic and eclectic history of economic thought in Colombia.